Nga Whaea Atawhai o Aotearoa Sisters of Mercy New Zealand, is a Catholic religious congregation of women founded in Ireland in 1831 by Catherine McAuley. The congregation provides education, healthcare, community development and social services in Aotearoa New Zealand, Tonga and Samoa. The vision of Nga Whaea Atawhai o Aotearoa Sisters of Mercy New Zealand is particularly shaped by the call of the Gospel, the vision of Catherine McAuley, and its commitment to Te Tiriti o Waitangi.

Nga Whaea Atawhai o Aotearoa Tiaki Manatu Sisters of Mercy Ministries Trust Board is responsible for overseeing the governance of the Congregation's incorporated ministries of Healthcare, Education, Spirituality, Aged care, Supported Accommodation, and Community Development. These ministries are located throughout New Zealand.

The Trust Board has a vacancy for a Te Kaihautu Mission Administrator to bring collaborative leadership to a team of dedicated mission personnel. The role will include developing and supporting processes and structures to achieve Integrity in Mission, Education in Mission, Mission Development, and Mission in Governance in alignment with the Trust's commitment to Te Tiriti o Waitangi, and in response to contemporary needs.

The successful applicant will be responsible for working collaboratively with people who hold Board, Executive and Mission positions within a complex not-for-profit organisation.

A copy of the Job Description and Application Form can be found on the Tiaki Manatu Ministries Trust Board Website (www.tiakimanatu.org). Applications close on Friday 28th April 2017.
